Considering the fact that we have but one short life to live on this earth, it seems almost to border on the verge of foolishness that so many of us should pass our entire lives as absolute strangers, while living right here in this little county, all of us having our problems to solve, and practically the same obstacles to overcome. It doesn't make a bit of difference whether you have ever traded in Grayling, or whether a bit of difference whether you have ever traded in Grayling, or whether you ever will, you are most cordially invited to attend this big mid-summer picnic and field day, meet your friends and have a good time.

For a Better Town.

Conducted by Grayling

THE TURNING POINT IN THE FUTURE OF GRAYLING IS AT HAND. WHAT ARE YOU GOING TO DO ABOUT IT?

The attendance we had at our last meeting. Monday, showed at least one thing-we have a few men in town who are really interested in the future of Grayling. Those who stayed away or those who sit back and look on indifferently are to be commended for their enthusiasm. This town should have a fund to pay transportation out of town for every merchant or other person who stands in the road of progress or who growls about his town being a poor one. Every merchant owes it to his business and to his city to be a booster and community builder Keep up a lively interest in the movements for a petter business and home city. Push, pull, or get out of the way.

Our town is un against it right new. The turning point for better or worse is at hand. We are to be a future success or failure. It deas the manufacturing men of our town. At present we stand to loose one of our largest industries. We are also liable to loose one of our manufacturing plants. What are you going to do to prevent them from pulling out of town? Stay away from a meeting of business men at which some plan can be devised to retain these industries or replace them, or are you going to put your shoulder to the wheel and help. You cannot any longer sit back and let George do it. The handwriting is on the wall, men, you either help or the time is near when you will have to make room for a live fellow. Possibly you are self. satisfied. You may have a business which is paying you a living at present. If so you are surely a dead one, because others are going ahead and will not be satisfied with just enough neither for themselves or others. It is a distinct advantage to a town and every business man in it, to nave it known to the world that all its business men are up-to-date and progressive. Practice the Golden Ruie.

Another meeting is called for July 31st and you business man must Another meeting is called for July 31st and you business men must get out and offer your suggestions and help, put life into the prospects for the future of Grayling. At this time I want to especially appeal to the young business men of our town. It is up to them. Get out and push, keep the thing rolling. If necessary push the dead one out of the way. The young men of this town are the sees to make the town from now on. They are the ones to put. Grayling back in her place in the sun, in business, politics and everything in civic and social doings.

wagon fixed, a horse shod or any general blacksmithing done.

This is not right. There is much discontent and complaint among the farmers about it. This town needs a tie stable—open the—year around, with rest room, toilets and i lacksmith shop attached and we are going to have them. It is up to the village council to bestr themselves in this matter unless they wish to see the farmer, trade drift away. A determined committee of the Board of Trade will pursue this matter to a finish. The above conveniences should be one of the first things every Grayling business man should seek to see provided. Talk about this will not satisfy our—farmer—customers. They want action and they want it quick. This is not right. There is much discontent and complaint among action and they want it quick.

Among other things for the good of the town, carnestly discussed Among other things for the good of the town, carnestly discussed was the purchase or erection of a spitable tid stade and blacksmith shop for farmers. Too many of our business men are indifferent about this important matter, acting as if they feet that the farmer would have to come here to trade anyway. As the situation now stands a farmer find; no-barn in which to put his team. There is not a public lot even, on which he is really welcome to let his team eat out of his wagon box, nor a place to get water for his horses. There are no toilet arrangements. It a farmer does squeeze his team into some corner somewhere there is no safe place to put wraps or purchases and these are liable to be drenched by rain or covered by show.

The following attended the meeting of July 24:n. Pick out those who are showing the real interest in the welfare of Grayling:

Let's get every man in business out to attend the meeting July 91st. It is of vital importance to our town. Things must be done now. Holger F. Peterson, Pres.

And Burr was hearing somethingsomething disting, 'nd terrifying; but he seemed not /apprised, but rather satisfied that, Jan had not heard. He nodded his head at Alan's-denial, and, without reply to Alan's demand, he stood listening. Something bent him forward; he straightened; again the something came; again the straightened. Four times Alan counted the four long blasts of distress! But there was no noise but the gale. "The four blasts!" He recalled old Burr's terror outside the radio cabin. The old man was hearing blasts which were not

He moved on and took the wheel He was a good wheelsman; the vessel seemed to be steadler on her course old man steered. His illusions of hearing could do no harm, Alan considered; they were of concern only to Burr and to him.

Alan fought to keep his thought all to his duty; they must be now very nearly at the position where the Richardson last had heard the four long biasts; searching for a ship or for boats, in that snow, was almost hope-With sight even along the searchlight's beam shortened to a few hundred yards, only accident could bring Number 25 up for rescue only chance atill floated and had steam-would be

They were meeting frequent and heavy floes, and Alan gave warning of these by halls to the bridge; the bridge answered and when possible the steam er avoided the floes; when it could no do that it cut through them. shadow emerged—the shadow of a ship. It was a steamer, Alan saw, a long, low-lying old vessel without lights and without smoke from the funnel slanting up just forward of the after deckhouse; it rolled in the trough of the sea. The sides and all the lower works gleamed in ghostly phosphores-cence, it was refraction of the searchlight beam from the ice sheathing all ship, Alan's brain told him; but the sight of that soundless, shimmering ship, materializing from behind the screen of snow struck a tremor through

"Ship!" he hailed, "Ahead! Dead ahead, sir i Ship!"

The shout of quick commands derfoot he could feel a new tumult of Instantly the deck; the engines, stopped, were being set full speed astern. But - Number 25, instead of sheering off to right or left to avoid the collision, steered straight on.

The struggle of the engines against the momentum of the ferry told that others had seen the gleaming ship, or, one in a trance, fixed, staring ahead; his arms, stiff, had been holding Number 25 to her course. The skinner struck him and beat him away, while the mate tugged at the wheel. Burr was torn from the wheel now, and he blows; but the skipper, in his frenzy, struck him again and knocked him to

Slowly, steadily, Number 25 was responding to her helm. The bow pointed away, and the beam of the ferry came beside the beam of the silen steamer; they were very close now, so close that the searchlight, which had turned to keep on the other vesse shot above its shimmering deck and lighted only the spars; and, as the wa ter rose and fell between them, the chips sucked closer. Number 25 shook with an effort; it seemed opposing with all the power of its screws some force fatally drawing it on opposing with the last resistance before giving way. Then, as the water fell again, the ferry seemed to slip and be drawn toward the other vessel: they mounted side by side . . . crashed . . . recoiled . . . crashed again. That second crash threw all who had nothing to hold by, flat upon the deck; then Number 25

"The Miwaka! And you tried to steer through it again."

"The Miwaka!" old Burr's lips reiterated the word. "Yes; yes—the Mi-

He struggled, writhing with some agony not physical. Alan tried to hold him, but now the old man was beside himself with dismay. He broke away and started aft. The captain's voice recalled Alan to himself, as he was about to follow, and he turned back to the wheelhouse.

The second officer, who had gone be tow to ascertain the damage done to the ferry, came up to report. Two of taken the crush of the collision, had flooded instantly; the bulkheads were holding-only leaking a little, the officer declared. THE HOME OF THE SOUL,

In olden times, it was believed that the seat of the soul was the stomach, most likely for the reason that a man is never so completely used up as when his stomach is out of order. For the cure of ordinary stomach troubles, there is nothing quite so prompt and satisfactory as Chamberlain's Tablets They strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. Give them a trial. They only cost a quarter.

"The Best Truck I Ever Built"

FRANK W. RUGGLES

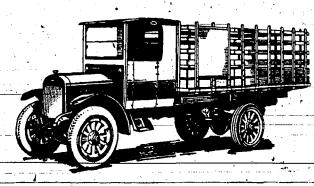

This statement from the man who is the pioneer of the truck industry, having developed the largest truck factory, producing more trucks than any other organization in the world, is worthy of the most serious consideration by every prospective truck purchaser.... In the truck upon which he has put his name, has gone all the wealth of experience gained by years of manufacturing experience of Frank W. Ruggles and the best men of his organization.

The result is a truck that for actual value, for genuine quality, for mechanical excellence, has never been equalled in the history of the industry, and the repidity with which they are being sold in every part of the United States is evidence of the confidence in which the Ruggles Truck and the Ruggles Motor Truck Co. are held everywhere.

Let us show you the Ruggles Truck in detail; compare it with other trucks costing hundreds of dollars more and we think you will agree that it's

Everybody Come to the Crawford County

FIED DAY & PICNIC

Grayling, Mich. SAT. AUG. 5th

This invitation includes not only the farmers, merchants, professional men and all others living in the Townships, but also ALL the people of Grayling, young and old, tall and short, fat and slim—in fact EVERYBODY living in Crawford County and elsewhere is included in this invitation. We do not care whether you ever spent a cent in Grayling, or whether you will ever spend a cent in Grayling—that does not make one iota of difference. For this one day let's ALL lay aside every consideration of business and give ourselves over to the thought that "we ought to be thankful that we are alive" in this wonderful age, and devote our whole attention to the ONE IDEA of having a good, clean, wholesome, enjoyable day.

RAULS SPORTS BALL GAME TWENTHING

COME TO GRAYLING

GET ACQUAINTED.

The object of this Picnic is to supply an opportunity for the residents of Crawford County for a most enjoyable day and to enew and enlarge their acquaintanceship. There are lots of good people in the world, and lots of them right in Crawford County. But if we don't KNOW THEM WHAT GOOD DOES IT DO US? It is the sincere desire of the Committee that EACH PERSON wear a card with his or her name and address plainly written or printed there in the passing the short span of our years within just a few miles of one another but with the great majority of us just as complete strangers as though we lived on the other side of the earth. IS IT WORTH WHILE? Shouldn't life mean MORE to us than that, and are we not ALL missing out on one of the BICGEST and BEST things of

There could be no better or more ideal time to hold such a gettogether picnic than right NOW. Work on the farm will be well along and a brief respite from the ordinary every-day duties of life will do us all GOOD-farmers, laboring men, clerks, factory employees-in fact everyone-because we all have our duties. Therefore lct us hail with delight this happy and romantic season of picnics and outings, and we ask YOU to meet our preparations for your enjoyment with the same enthusiasm and kindly spirit that has marked our desire to ADD TO YOUR PLEASURE. Our aim is that, when this big Picnic is over, you can truthfully say that it was the BEST and MOST ENJOYABLE DAY you ever spent. Of course you cannot say that if you do not attend and that is WHY we are URGING YOU TO COME. We have done a lot of hard work, a lot of planning, spent a lot of time and a lot of money to prepare a program for your entertainment and we want EVERYBODY IN CRAWFORD COUN-TY to be our guests on SATURDAY, AUG. 5th. ivleet your friends, make new acquaintances and enjoy the fine program we have prepared for you. We ask you ALL to kindly enter into the spirit of the day by helping to fill out the different events:

LOOSE-COUPLED COILS

Colls, or, as they are more often | experimenting after the coll is in alled, tuning coils, are very essential parts of radio telegraphy and tele-phony. The old style tuning coil, as and one-half times as many, or say used in wireless telegraphy, has been thirty-eight to forty-five on the second to tune much finer or more closely than by the old type coil. Although it is not difficult to make a loose-coupled coll yet, as is the case with many of the parts of radio sets, it is as cheap and far more satisfactory to purchase them ready made. The conventional two distinct coils, one within the other, us shown in Fig. 46. One of these is the primary coil, the other the secondary or induction coil. As a companion to this tire there is the Goodyear 30 x 3½ Cross-Rib Fabric.

Built of the same high grade Egyptian fabric and with a long wearing but differently designed tread, this tire offers unusual value.

Over 5,000,000 of these tires have been sold in the last five years.

Their quality and serviceability have proven to thousands of motorists the folly of buying unknown and unguaranteed tires of lower price.

NOTICE.

As required by Section 17, of Act No. 339 of the Public Acts of the State of Michigan for the year 1919, I shall on the 19th day of July next turn over to the sheriff and prosecuting at-1.19 torney of Crawford County a conf plete list of all unlicensed dogs for the year 1922 as made out from reports furnished me by the various township supervisors and treasurers. and the assessor of Grayling Village. According to these reports there appears to be a large number of unlicensed dogs in this county. All dog owners who have not already secured licenses should obtain same from me at once in order to avoid the penalties prescribed by statute. Edwin S. Chalker,

What Does Your Overland Dollar Buy?

Luxurious Riding Comfort-That's the wonderful patented Triplex Spring suspension.

Economical Operation-That's the Overland motor—25 miles to the gallon of gasoline.

Minimum Repairs—That's the sound construction. The all-steel body, for instance, permits stronger construction and the hard-baked enamel finish.

> Compare the Overland at $550, point by point, with any car selling under $750. Then let us take you for a ride in it—over any kind of road.
